A strong voice for our community

A word from Wade...

Over the last year in my role as Labor's Parliamentary Secretary for Health, I have been following closely the growing crisis in our ambulance service.

More and more Victorians are waiting longer for an ambulance when they call for help. In the Napthine Government, only 72% of code 1, life threatening call-outs are attended to within 15 minutes, which are way outside the Government's target of 95%.

This is placing lives in danger and taking a toll on our health system. As expected as an increasing number of ambulances are stuck ramped up in the inner west, we are seeing more and more patients being treated at hospitals we would have never heard of in my electorate.

If we eliminated even half the ramping of ambulances at hospitals we would have to wait for an ambulance on the road 24 hours a day, every day.

It's time for the Napthine Government to fix this crisis.

Yours sincerely,

Wade Noonan

Ambulance Service in Crisis

The $20 million cut to the state's health system by the Napthine Government is affecting how quickly ambulances respond when there is an emergency, placing lives at risk in Melbourne's inner West.

Emergency response times in the inner West have blown out by up to three minutes with many patients now not being reached by paramedics within the target time of 15 minutes.

The neglect of the ambulance service and the health system has caused a crisis in the inner west. Ambulances are stuck with ambulances, often up to 10 at a time, queued for hours outside overfilled hospital emergency departments and unable to respond to new emergencies.

At the Alfred Hospital in Fitzroy, ambulances are currently keeping up a total 675 hours a month, equivalent to having one less ambulance on the road 24 hours a day for the whole month.

If you or someone in your family has been affected by the Napthine Government's health cuts, let us know at www.ambulanceserviceincrisis.com.au and help us spread the word on the issue.

Brooklyn Welcomes Winds of Change In Pollution Battle

Residents of Brooklyn have had a big win in their battle to clean up pollution in the area around the Brooklyn Industrial Estate with the State Government approving to invest $600,000 to seal the area's dirtiest roads.

Burnling and Jones Roads, which are both unsealed, contribute as much as half of the dust pollution in the area compared with the previous year. This includes a 10 per cent increase in dust from drug offences, 12.7 per cent rise in metals and a 24.9 per cent jump in polystyrene and styrene emissions and particles.

Mr Marston said there was a concerning increase in sediment levels, a 12 per cent increase in asbestos and 11.8 per cent more tonnes against the permit's maximum level.

Government forecasts more truck traffic

Road congestion in Melbourne's west looks set to worsen, with the Victorian Transport Freight State report forecasting Melbourne's road freight to double over the next two decades.

The Napthine Government has no plan to manage the congestion and take trucks off the streets of Yarraville, Seddon and Footscray. The Victorian Freight Alternative and Truck Action Plan, which were future projects are now postponed indefinitely, or dropped entirely.

Unsurprisingly, the Napthine Government have placed all of their eggs in the one basket, housing on the $8 billion tunnel linking the western suburbs to CityLink, whilst the streets of Melbourne's west will further choke, punishing industry and the community alike.

To send a message to Premier Napthine that it's time to address road congestion in the west, visit www.PvWestCongestion.com.au

Crime soars across Hobsons Bay

New Victoria Police statistics show that under the Napthine Government the crime rate in Hobsons Bay has上升了 10.7% over the past year, making it the third year in a row.

Under the previous Labor State Government, Victoria experienced ten consecutive years of falling crime rates.

Over the past year crime has increased in Hobsons Bay by 10.7 per cent compared with the previous year. This includes a 12.1 per cent rise in drug offences, 12.7 per cent rise in metals and a 24.9 per cent jump in polystyrene and styrene emissions and particles.

Mr Marston said there was a concerning increase in sediment levels, a 12 per cent increase in asbestos and 11.8 per cent more tonnes against the permit's maximum level.

Rent relief for Julian Mountford

The Napthine Government has backed down on its harsh decision to massively increase rents for more than 2,000 people with disabilities living in state-run residences following public outcry and the recent class action by residents, families and disability groups.

Local couple Peter and Georgia Mountford breached a sign of relief over their backflip which would have increased accommodation costs for their son Julian by $6,000 per year.

The proposed fee hike would have increased accommodation costs for their son Julian by $6,000 per year.

The proposed fee hike would have increased accommodation costs for their son Julian by $6,000 per year.

The proposed fee hike would have increased accommodation costs for their son Julian by $6,000 per year.

Call for inquiry into development around major hazard facilities

Concerns about the appropriateness of approving new residential developments near major hazard facilities (MHFs), has prompted the State Labor Opposition to call for a Parliamentary Inquiry to investigate the matter further.

Williamstown North Station upgrades completed

The upgrade of the Williamstown North station, which had been long awaited, completed, replacing what was a mostly disengaged and potentially dangerous walkway with a safe and accessible pedestrian ramp and lift.

The $20.3 million upgrade provides 50 additional car spaces, including 10 spaces for light rail passengers, a fast lift, a 'kiss-and-ride' bay and landscaping and tree protection.
